Four lawyers charged with being shysters in Louisville have been suspended from the practice of law for six months.

Both Stanley and McCreary speak in Georgetown next Monday; Mr. Stanley in the forenoon and the Governor in the afternoon.

Jas. R. Lemon, of the Mayfield Messenger, is the new President of the Kentucky Press Association. The Dawson meeting came to a close yesterday.

John McMelean, of the Paris Patriot, and John Lawrence, of the Cadiz Record, are calling each other names. Don't pay, boys. Your readers care nothing for your personal opinions of each other.

William Day, said to be formerly of Breathitt county, while in a drunken frenzy at Neon, Letcher county, shot eight persons, one of whom is dead, and several others of whom are likely to die. Day himself was killed by a posse.

Leaders of the 10,000 striking employees of Westinghouse at Pittsburgh, incensed at the company's importation of men, informed President Herr, of the company, that the union leaders would not be responsible for outbreaks of violence.

The Louisville Times of Wednesday contained a big picture of the editors at Dawson Springs. It was very easy to find Col. L. W. Gaines. Tom Underwood was also conspicuous near the center, entirely surrounded by ladies. P. S.—Mrs. Underwood didn't go.

As a consequence of the agreement between State officials and representatives of foreign insurance companies which suspended operations in the State following the enactment of the Greene-Glenn law, it is believed that 106 companies will resume operations in the State by the middle of next week.

State Senator Selden R. Glenn, of Eddyville, author of the Greene-Glenn bill, is given credit for getting the two insurance factors to a basis of agreement, and it is said it will be to his diplomacy and tact the ending of the insurance war will be due, if the present forms of adjustment are acceptable.

The settlement of the differences between the State officials and the insurance companies doing business in the State, is a matter that will cause general satisfaction throughout the State. The fair and conservative spirit shown by both sides is greatly to the credit of all concerned. The insurance business of the State will soon resume its normal status and a fearful menace to the property interests of Kentucky will be removed, at least for the time being.

Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, who is near death in Chicago, was born in this county 80 years ago. He has many near relatives still in this country. Quinine Jim McKenzie was his first cousin. Mr. Stevenson's last visit to his old home was in the summer of 1892, when he was a candidate for Vice-President. At that time a great barbecue was held at the Stevenson homestead where the future vice-president was born. The Democratic ticket swept the country in that election and Mr. Stevenson was Vice-President from 1893 to 1897.

Kermit Roosevelt, married in Madrid Thursday to the daughter of Ambassador Willard, is the second son of the former President and is 25 years old. He graduated from Harvard in 1912 and his business is railroading, with headquarters at San Paulo, Brazil. His bride made her social debut two years ago. Her father is a Democrat, appointed by President Wilson from Richmond, Va. Miss Willard met her future husband at the Derby-Roosevelt wedding 18 months ago. She was a close friend of Ethel Roosevelt. The bride is a small blonde and a very vivacious Southern girl.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT

Compromise Is About To Be Reached In The Insurance Muddle.

MUTUAL CONCESSIONS MADE.

Gist of The Proposition That May End The Insurance Blockade.

Louisville, Ky., June 12.—Settlement of the Kentucky fire insurance tangle, caused by the wholesale withdrawal from the state of foreign insurance companies following enactment by the last legislature of the Glenn-Green amendment to stringent state supervision and taxation of premiums, is predicted as a result of conferences here between representatives of several large insurance companies and state officials.

A proposition submitted by the insurance representatives is declared by members of the conference to be satisfactory to the state officials except in a few minor details, and probably will receive official approval. Under this proposition the insurance companies agree to the principle of state regulation and will return to the state at once.

The state officials are to suspend operations of the new law and refrain from putting certain heavy expenses entailed by the law upon the companies. A test of the constitutionality of the measure will be made.

A commission will be named to frame a new bill to be introduced at the next legislature to take the place of the Zorn law and the Glenn-Green amendment. One of these commissioners will be named by Kentucky business organizations, another by the state insurance board and the third by the insurance companies.

The companies also agree to make certain reductions in rates in accordance with orders issued by the state rating board.

Statement Is Issued.

The following comment on the settlement is made by the business men's committee:

"The undersigned members of the committee named at the meeting of the commercial organizations, manufacturing and business interests of the State held in Louisville on the 19th of May, 1914, and on whose invitation the conference between the representatives of the insurance companies and the State officials has been held, desire to make this statement to the insuring public of Kentucky:

"First—An agreement settling the insurance controversy has been reached, subject to ratification by the fire insurance companies, represented in the negotiations by their committee.

"Second—That the State officials have evidenced a broad and comprehensive spirit of public duty in their earnest and zealous efforts not only to safeguard the interests of the State but at the same time to ameliorate the deplorable situation which had been brought about by the withdrawal from Kentucky of the insurance companies heretofore doing business in the State.

Support Is Urged.

"The insurance companies, we feel sure, have been equally sincere and broadminded in their efforts to assist in arriving at a satisfactory understanding and adjustment of the difficulty. The committee representing the companies has labored well and faithfully, not alone in their own interests, but in the interest of their customers as well, to arrive at a basis of understanding which would permit them to resume business in Kentucky.

"We do not feel that it is possible to go into detail as to the reasons for the disagreements, nor as to the concessions which have been made on both sides in order that a compromise might be reached. Suffice it to say that this committee is thoroughly conversant with the negotiations which have been carried on, that we heartily endorse the conclusions which have been reached; that we sincerely believe the State officials have performed their duty to the people ably and well; that the committee representing the insurance companies have, so far as they could with due regard to the interests they represent, met the demands for a reduction in rates and finally we congratulate the people of Kentucky on the settlement of an issue which threatened to paralyze the business of the State; stagnate trade and retard the growth and development of manufacturing and commerce throughout the Commonwealth.

"We strongly urge upon the business interests of Kentucky their hearty support of the agreement entered into.

Meeting At Antioch.

A protracted meeting at Antioch Christian church near Tuggerville will begin the third Sunday in June. Rev. Templeton, of Hopkinsville, will conduct the meeting.—Record.

HISTORY OF WESTMINSTER

A Hundred Years of Usefulness of Presbyterian Church in City.

LIST OF ALL THE PASTORS.

Compiled by Rev. C. H. H. Branch, the Present Pastor of the Church.

the same form in which it was originally built, making it the oldest church edifice in the city. Rev. B. D. Thomas was supply here for a year, but there is no record of his ministry in the Sessional records.

Rev. F. G. Strahan came as Stated Supply in Oct. 1853, and one of the interesting relies that the Centennial Celebration has brought to light is a Pulpit Bible presented to the church in 1845, and on the margins of which Mr. Strahan noted the texts from which he preached so that it has been possible to ascertain the subjects of his sermons for almost the entire time of his ministry.

Rev. H. V. D. Veivius became pastor in 1859 and was here during the entire period of the Civil War, not leaving until 1867. It is worthy to note that the records of the church contain not the slightest hint of the strife that was being waged, and the activities of its work show no signs of interruption.

On July 20, 1876, when the church was without a pastor, was held a congregational meeting at which the congregation, by a vote of 29 to 15, decided to separate, the majority adhering to the Southern church and the minority choosing the Northern. The history of the local church is closely wrapped up in that of the Presbytery and Synod, and it played a large part in the action which finally located the majority of the Synod in the Southern, rather than in the Northern Assembly. The Session was evenly divided and exactly what was the proportion of the membership in each church it is impossible to say, but the vote indicated above would indicate that it was two to one. For some years both congregations occupied the building in turn and it was not until 1879 that the property was divided.

Hopkinsville itself was not platted out until 1799, and it is suggestive that one of the first two settlers in Christian county, Jno. Montgomery, bears the same name as one who later was an Elder in this church, Dr. F. G. Montgomery. The names of the earliest settlers appear upon the rolls of the church, and some of them occupied a prominent place in the establishment and developing of the town. One who compares the histories of the county and of the church is impressed with the recurrence of such names as: Thompson, Davidge, Dallam, Bradshaw, Shaefleford, Bronaugh, Breathitt, Henry, Stites, Steele, Rice, Sharp, Hopkins, and many others.

During its infancy the church had no regular preaching or house of worship, using the old Court House when it was necessary. The original Elders were Wm. Moore and David Berry. The first stated preacher was Rev. Wm. K. Stewart, who preached here once a month for several years, and organized what is now known as Westminster church was incorporated under the name of the Second Presbyterian church, with C. B. Alexander, C. L. Dade and Jas. C. Moore as the incorporators.

On June 21, 1885, Rev. W. L. Nourse was installed pastor, and his ministry was the longest and the most productive of additions to membership of any in the history of the church. The town was thoroughly aroused by revival meetings under such men as Sam Jones, D. L. Moody and others.

From Nov. 1903 to July 1907, Rev. J. E. Fogartie, D. D., was Stated Supply and pastor.

The present pastorate, that of Rev. C. H. H. Branch, began in Dec. 1907.

While mere figures will not indicate the full work of the church, the following totals for the Century will be of interest. As far as they affect the membership, they are accurate for the entire time; in the finances, it has been impossible to secure reports for some of the years, and the total would be larger. Infants baptized, 299; adults, 220; added on certificate, 364; on profession of faith, 769; a total of 1,133. Contributed for benevolences, $16,912; for congregational expenses, $106,662, a total of $123,573.

Owsley-McKinivan.

The following announcement will be read with interest by the friends of Sam F. Owsley, the popular young traveling man who still claims Hopkinsville as his home:

Mr. J. B. McKinivan announces the engagement of his sister Eva Gertrude to Mr. Samuel Fox Owsley. The wedding will occur at Owingsville, Ky., in June.

Miss McKinivan comes from one of the old and a prominent families of the Bluegrass section of the State. She is a young lady of charming personality, and to know her is to love her.

CARRANZA AT LAST MOMENT

Announces Reply to Note Of Niagara Falls Mediators and Expect to Take Hand.

WILL GRANT NO ARMISTICE.
Mediators Are Not Liable To Let Him In At This Late Day.

Saltillo, Mexico, June 12.—General Carranza announced last night that he had returned an answer to the note of the Niagara Falls mediators stating that he would appoint representatives to the conference at Niagara Falls.

The names of the representatives were not made public. The note gave simply the assurance that the constitutionalists would be represented and did not mention conditions on which the constitutionalists would take part. It was announced, however, that the agreement to attend the conference would not serve to check the campaign now being waged against the federals in any respect and the advance to the south will be continued with vigor.

May Be To Late.

Washington, June 12.—Washington administration officials would not comment last night on the South American mediators' refusal to wait longer for General Carranza to answer their communication.

Publication by the mediators of exchanges between them and General Carranza's agents and the report that the South American envoys regarded further waiting as beneath their dignity, were taken here to mean that the door to mediation is closed on the constitutionalists.

Ready For Names.

Niagara Falls, June 12.—In a full conference of the mediators and the delegates of both countries it was agreed that the transfer of authority from the present administration to the new provisional government should be accomplished in some other way than by General Huerta's appointment of a minister of foreign affairs to succeed to the provisional presidency.

Last night's conference lasted more than two hours. Names for provisional president were not mentioned, but it is expected that at today's conference a beginning will be made in this direction. Another almost irreconcilable difference of opinion exists on the type of man for the provisional presidency, the Mexicans arguing for a "neutral," while the Americans want an out and out constitutionalist.

One of the individuals being talked of informally is General Natera, commander of the central division of the constitutional army. The Mexican delegates have heard that he is a man of human disposition with no thirst for loot or executions. Whether he is fitted for the political task confronting Mexico is a point on which there is little information.

Luis Cabrera, confidential adviser of General Carranza, is another who is being favorably considered.

Life Lost By Appeal.

Seoul, Korea, June 12.—Tomitaro Watanabe, a Japanese who on March 29 killed Dr. Edgar D. Mott Stryer, an American surgeon, was hanged Tuesday. Watanabe, who had previously strangled his wife, went to the hospital at Halkol, where Dr. Stryer was in charge, and shot the American doctor. He was tried and sentenced to life imprisonment, but appealed. The superior court sentenced him to death.

LITTLE ROSIE'S FATHER

By L. M. STEVENS.

Two questions seriously troubled Rosie. Where was her father? Why didn't Rachel have a beau? Rachel, who was her mother, had long ago concluded the child was an oddity and paid little or no attention to her endless queries and singular habits, though oftentimes she would pause in her work to gaze at Rosie, rocking, to and fro, with a kitten hugged tight in her arms and singing in a shrill voice a quaint little song.

Rachel invariably sighed. Her relation to her child was not of an intimate nature. She was always too overworked to encourage friendliness and, therefore, Rosie seemed strange and remote. Romance enveloped her and she lived in a world of her own creation, far removed from her humble surroundings. She went to the little whitewashed schoolhouse on the hill, and at recess played with the children, but afterward she came home and sat on the doorstep alone.

One day a little girl, who was exceedingly small, but very important because her father was the storekeeper, began to swing on the school-yard gate and looked Rosie over with contemptuous disapproval.

"Why do you stick after us?" she asked.

"I don't," said Rosie quickly, "and I think it's mean of you to say so."

"Oh, do you?" cried the little girl. "I'd like to know why, when my mamma said it was a pity we respectable children had to play with you, and that you didn't have a father, even, and—"

"My father—" Rosie panted. She knew she could say one of two things.

"He is away," she ended triumphantly.

"Away! Is he coming back?" she asked, with newly awakened interest.

"Yes," said Rosie, "he is coming back some time," and suddenly she turned and fairly flew down the sun-bathed road.

Rosie sat on the doorstep mending a garment. She was thin and frail, with a pink flush on her sunken cheeks and a burn in her dark eyes. She smiled as the child rushed up and let her work fall in her lap.

"Well, what is it?" she inquired, breathlessly.

"They all have 'em—where is my father?" she cried, in little pants.

"When is he comin' back?"

"Comin' back!" Rachel echoed in amazement.

"Yes. I told Mamie he was comin' some time."

"Well, he's not"—an angry light darted in her eyes—"you haven't one, even, and tell her so if she asks you again. Little idiots," she added, more to herself than to the child.

Rosie's arms had fallen limp at her sides. Horror, astonishment and disbelief successively came in her face.

The next morning in the schoolhouse several of the children were gathered around the teacher, so Rosie shyly joined the group and heard the last part of the conversation.

"Little Lucy Harlow is going to start to school today, and you must all be especially nice and kind to her, for she hasn't a father."

"Oh! oh! Rosie's heart beat tumultuously. At last there would be one of her kind.

Rosie Harlow and her mother came in just before the last bell rang. Rosie did not attempt to probe the difference, but she knew immediately that Mrs. Harlow was curiously unlike the other mothers in the village.

One evening Rosie stood at the gate, gazing up and down the road, until finally her diligent watch was rewarded.

A man, wearing a shabby blue suit, a gay necktie, patent leather shoes, and carrying a traveling bag, walked briskly towards her.

Rosie looked dubious. She knew she could not buy soap, and yet, Prince Charming had been too long in coming to allow him to escape now that he stood upon their very threshold.

Rachel would soon turn the bend in the road, but until that moment she had not considered that it would be a very dirty, tired-looking Rachel. A happy thought suddenly occurred to her.

"I tell you what!" Rosie raised her shining eyes. "Come again 'bout dusk. My mother will be home by that time."

"Well, I say you're an uncommonly polite little girl. I'll be back," and to Rosie's astonishment, Prince Charming lifted his hat and went leisurely towards the village.

When her mother returned, she said:

"You beat all, you queer little thing. But I wouldn't dress for a soap agent or a prince tonight, why, I'm actually too tired to eat," and with a sigh she sank wearily on the steps.

Down the road came the soap agent.

"Frank!" she cried, placing her hand to her forehead in a piteous effort to suppress her emotion.

He gazed at her dumb-struck, until the appeal in her faded, bitter face gave him understanding.

"Tell her," said the soap agent, and there was an unusual tremor in his voice. "Prince Charming is here."

Possible Attraction.

"What's all the fuss about this Mona Lisa?" inquired the vaudeville manager.

"She seems to be getting plenty of advertising," opined his chief of staff.

"Well, I don't know who she is, but offer her $500 a week and we'll take a chance."

Chautauqua Playground Workers

THE young women in the above photograph are all engaged in playground and story hour work on the Redpath Chautauqua system this year. One of them will be at each Chautauqua.

During six days of the Chautauqua playground worker will meet with the children at the Chautauqua tent. She will conduct a story hour for the younger children and for the older ones will carry out a program of athletics and physical culture. The instructors for this work have all received their training in leading schools in Chicago. The playground work is under the supervision of Dr. W. A. Colledge, director of the department of education of the Redpath Chautauquas. Throughout the entire country much is being made of story hour and playground work. Many public libraries in the large cities have a regular story hour each Saturday.

Season Tickets for Our Forthcoming Redpath Chautauqua

In arranging to inaugurate this chautauqua this year the local committee bought 1,000 $2.50 season tickets, which will be sold, while they last, by them for $2.00 each.

When these tickets are exhausted no season tickets thereafter can be had for less than $2.50. Also, the price of season tickets will not be reduced from the first day to the close of the chautauqua.

The single admissions to the different sessions of this chautauqua aggregate more than $8.00, so it will pay you to buy a season ticket even after the program is half completed. CHILDREN'S TICKETS admit children aged six to fourteen years inclusive. All children are admitted to the children's work free.

Chautauqua Week Here June 17 to June 23.

Wanted---Action.

Mr. Laffoon comes forward to-day with some impressively large figures which invite investigation. The conference between the State officials and the representatives of the insurance companies is set for to-day. The people of Kentucky have heard much from Mr. Laffoon and his associates by way of attack. The insurance companies have had comparatively little to say by way of defense. But the fact remains that policies are expiring without prospect of renewal and dividends from the insurance people have not and are not going to change that state of fact one whit.

What is needed and demanded is a program which can be thrashed out and, in the end, worked out. The Glenn-Greene act should be repealed. The discretionary provisions of the Zorn law might be held in abeyance. A commission of experts should be named by the Governor to report to the next session of the General Assembly. That body should so change the present system that thereafter the Governor, not the Auditor, should appoint the members of the State Rating Board and these members should be appointed on the score of their business efficiency, not by reason of political activities.

State regulation is here and here to stay. For that reason, it is the more imperative that it should be exercised intelligently and in the interest of the insured, not for the benefit of a small group of political machinists.

There is nothing in the existing situation that cannot be met and overcome if the politicians and the representatives of the insurance companies can be made to deal with it as a question in which the people are directly and vitally concerned and not from the standpoint of selfish interest, as has heretofore been the rule. The force of public opinion should be exercised to see to it that they do so deal.—Louisville Times Tuesday.

Oil In Estill.

Irvine, Ky., June 10.—C. R. Dunn, of Greencastle, Ind., struck a fine oil well last week on the Williams & Maple 4,000-acre tract of land, about four miles northeast of Irvine. The well is estimated by oil men to be good for from ten to fifteen barrels a day. The oil is light green and will test 34 gravity. The well is causing quite a stir in and around Irvine. Leases are being taken on all sides of the well.

Scared But Not Hurt.

During an electrical storm in South Harriman, Tenn., a cow belonging to Mrs. Williams, that she was milking, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, falling over on the woman and pinning her to the ground, where she remained until help came and rescued her. Remarkable to say, however, Mrs. Williams was not seriously injured physically, though terribly frightened.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pain. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise." —Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound." —Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

RACE BILL IS KILLED

Excitement Prevailed When House By Narrow Majority Postponed Indefinitely.

Baton Rouge, La., June 12.—Attended by excitement not witnessed here in years over a measure in the legislature, the Louisiana house of representative defeated the bill that would have made horse racing in Louisiana possible. The vote was 55 to 50 on a motion to indefinitely postpone, and was equivalent to killing the bill outright. Only five members of the house were absent.

Jackson-True.

A June wedding of social interest was that of Mr. Fred Jackson of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Miss Maggie Latimer True of Springfield, which was solemnized in Springfield Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock, at the Baptist church.

The church auditorium was artistically decorated in vines, plants and flowers. The wedding party stood beneath a wedding bell, while the bridegroom knelt upon a satin pillow. Dr. C. M. Thompson of Hopkinsville pronounced the ceremony, in the presence of a large audience of friends and relatives who had gathered from several points to be present at the nuptials.

The bride entered with her father, Judge H. C. True. Preceding them from the door to the altar were, in the order named, Miss Hattie Hendley and Mr. John Green, Miss Myrtle Couts and Mr. Joe Slaughter, bridesmaids and groomsmen; Mrs. Emmet J. Edwards and Miss Marion True, matron and maid of honor; the flower girl, little Christine Edwards, and Master Brundage True, ring-bearer. At the altar the bride was met by Mr. Jackson and his best man, Mr. George Leckey.

Mrs. Ann Huey Girdler rendered the music on the piano, plying softly while the ceremony was being said, "To a Wild Rose." Mrs. Elizabeth Southgate of Nashville sang a group of songs. Mr. Fitz Fallerstein of Hopkinsville, a violin solo.

The ushers were Messrs. Lawson Flack and Alfred Eckles, Hopkinsville, and Messrs. Fred Woodard and Denie True of Springfield.

The bride wore white satin with embroidered chiffon, trimmed in pearls and old point lace, a Juliet cap and veil. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The matron and maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried pink Killarney roses.

The bride is one of the most popular of Springfield's younger set. She is the third daughter of Judge and Mrs. True and is a young woman of rare beauty and splendid intelligence and accomplishment.

Mr. Jackson was reared in Springfield. Embarking in business in Hopkinsville, he has become popular and successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside in Hopkinsville.—Tennessean.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; in cases out of ten are caused by Cataract which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the eye.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by cataract) bend for cataract free.

DROUGHT INSURES SHORT TOBACCO

Crop Bound To Be Far Below The Average In Acreage.

The tobacco situation is growing more serious every day. Nothing from now on can prevent a short crop. The season last week was by no means general and many neighborhoods had no rain at all. When there was rain, the plants set out were subject to such intense heat that a great proportion of them have been killed.

Farmers are growing desperate and there are grounds for the fear of a very short crop. It is getting very late, and the plants are overgrown and the hills are baked dry and hard and weeds are springing up. The plan of setting out plants with planters, using water, has been tried all over the county with weather conditions very unfavorable. One house handling the hand planters has sold over 200 in the last 30 days and probably 300 are in use in the county. Some have set out small crops by watering plants in the old-fashioned way and some fields set out before the rains last week are doing well as the plants were given a good start to growing.

The farmers are now rushing wheat harvest to get the grain in the shock before a possible rain falls. A general rain for Sunday would come as a blessing long to be remembered.

Another Good Shower.

Another good rain fell in Hopkinsville yesterday at 2:20 o'clock. It came from the west and the western part of the county shared in the blessing.

This is ice cream weather. For 25c, 50c or $1.00 you can have your Sunday order filled by Fox Bros. Co. Incorporated. (Advertisement.)

LAST MEETING OF THE SEASON

The Athenaeum listens to papers on Radium and Suffragism.

With the weather intensely hot, the Athenaeum held its last meeting for the season at Hotel Latham Thursday. President Ira L. Smith and 13 of the 30 members were present.

Dr. Austin Bell's very able and interesting scientific paper on Radium was the only paper of the regular program.

Mr. Frank Rives, whose paper was not ready for the April meeting, presented an article dealing with the rapid growth of woman suffrage, adroitly avoiding taking sides on the question. After a brief discussion, the meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

A membership committee for 1914-15 was named, viz: S. Y. Trimble, J. W. Downer and T. C. Underwood.

Those present were: Ira L. Smith, H. D. Smith, Jouett Henry, H. W. Linton, A. H. Eckles, Austin Bell, Chas. M. Meacham, J. W. Downer, S. Y. Trimble, C. H. H. Branch, Frank Rives, J. hn F. Bible and W. T. Tandy.

The wheat field on the other end of the farm was left perfectly dry and harvest was not hindered in the least.

TWO SPLENDID NEW CANDIES

Country Ginger a Substitute for the Present Variety—Preparation of Cherry Morsels.

Country Ginger.—This is an excellent substitute for the ordinary preserved ginger, and it is quite easy to prepare at a comparatively little expense, carrots being the chief ingredient. White carrots are preferable, but in their stead small yellow ones will answer equally well. Select a pound of carrots of fine texture and boil them for ten minutes, scrape off the outer rind, remove the points and the core and cut into pieces about a quarter of an inch thick. Boil these until they are quite tender, changing the water several times. Add two pounds of sugar, one quart of water, two ounces of green ginger root cut very fine, and the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Boil the mixture for 15 minutes. Allow it to stand overnight and boil again; repeat this process for three days until the syrup is very thick. Finally heat the syrup and strain it, leave it to harden, cut into cubes, roll them in granulated sugar and place them on a tray in a warm oven to dry. The oven must be hot enough to dry the cubes quickly.

Cherry Morsels.—Boil together in an enamel saucepan two cupsfuls of sugar, a quarter of a cupful of chocolate, ground fine, a cupful of cream and two tablespoonfuls of butter, stirring all well together until drop of the mixture turns in cold water hardens into a soft ball. Add to this one teaspoonful of lemon extract, one teaspoonful of almond extract and a cupful of preserved cherries chopped fine. Finally, take the saucepan off the fire, stir the mixture until it is smooth and creamy and drop into paper cases or tiny tins. When nearly hard decorate each half with quarters of preserved cherries and a little granulated sugar.

HINTS FOR BUSY HOUSEWIFE

How to Give Cauliflower a Better Flavor—Softening Shoe Polish—Smoking Oil Stoves.

To give cauliflower a better flavor cook it in milk and water—it will also look whiter than when just cooked in water.

To insure the bluing being evenly distributed in making blue rinse water for clothes, add a little salt to it.

To soften shoe polish that has become quite dry in keeping, moisten it with a little turpentine. This softens the polish, making it usable at once, and also gives a good gloss to the leather.

To prevent oil stoves from smoking, dissolve one tablespoonful of common salt in every pint of paraffin oil that you use. This gives a much cleaner light, and prevents the stove from rusting when stored away.

Snowflake Fritters.

Beat two eggs well, add one and one-half cupfuls flour and knead well. Flour the breadboard thoroughly and roll out very thin as for vermicelli. Cut into oblong strips about five inches long and in center of each cut a cross. Throw into boiling lard or rendered butter, fry quickly, turn and remove. Sprinkle them with powdered sugar and serve on platter. They look very dainty and are all curled up. Serve with side dishes of any kind of fruit.

Pineapple Pie.

Grate a large pineapple and mix it with two cupfuls of sugar. Add the well-heaten yolks of three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one and one-half cupfuls of sweet cream. Make in a rich crust, add a meringue made with the whites of the eggs beaten stiff, with six tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, and flavored with pineapple extract. Return to the oven to brown.

Boneless Birds.

Take a piece of round steak, cut in pieces three inches wide and three or four inches long. Make a dressing of bread crumbs, a little onion, pepper, salt and butter; then roll this in the pieces of steak. Put together with toothpicks and fry in lard. When both sides are brown, pour boiling water over and simmer about two hours. Serve hot.

Home Chili Sauce.

A dozen tomatoes, eight green peppers, two onions, a half dozen small chili peppers. Will make two or three bottles or about a quart.

Boil three cups of good vinegar and put into it the vegetables fine chopped and salted to taste. Boil an hour and a half and bottle without straining. More may be made but proportions are the same.

Wounded Beets.

No doubt every housewife knows she should not break the skin of the beet roots before boiling or they will be almost white instead of a nice deep red. Perhaps all do not know that if the raw beet root should be bruised or broken a touch with a red hot poker will form a new skin.

Peaches and Cream.

Cut choice, ripe peaches in halves, remove the stones, fill the cavities with sugar, arrange on a pretty serving dish, cover with whipped cream and serve.

Good Covering for Shelves.

Try common door oilcloth for your pantry shelves. It stays in place, wears longer, and can be cleaned very easily.

WOULD END "FAKING" IN ART

Movement to Have Artists Stamp Pictures With Thumb Print Is Undeniably a Good One.

"If the Pierpont Morgan collections are put on the market," said a New York art dealer, "it is safe to say that a lot of fakes will be exposed."

"There is no business so riddled with faking as the art business, especially the oil painting branch of it. Hence a new movement in Paris, the world's art center, is of interest. This is the Bertillonizing of all future paintings. The artist not merely signs his paintings, but, if he adopts this new movement, he thumb-prints them as well. He makes an impression of his thumb in the wet paint below his signature."

"The thumb print is the only really satisfactory identification mark for human beings, and it promises to be the only satisfactory guarantee of paintings in the future. A number of French artists have recently taken to Bertillonizing their work. It is probable that the excellent idea will spread from Paris all over the world."

MUST WEAR THE MUSTACHE

Duty of American Men If They Would Win the Approval of Gentle French Critic.

We must wear mustaches if we are to please Mme. Joire, French modiste, associated with Paquin in Paris, who left the United States recently, after conducting an eventful exhibit of French gowns in this country.

"What about the men?" she was asked.

"Oh, they are awful. Terrible, I might say. They are, to my mind, like a lot of rag pickers. They dress like butlers. And never a one of them has a mustache or whiskers. Ooh! That, to my mind, is disgraceful! When they do not wear any hair on their face it makes them effeminate looking. Why do they not wear whiskers like our grand Frenchmen? Whiskers are the mark of manhood, strength, power, while the only men I saw here who wore hair were the clerks in the business houses, and they had such funny, ridiculous mustaches that I must laugh at them."

FUNERALS BY POST.

Virtually funerals by parcel post have arrived. The German count whose revered remains were reduced to ashes and then sent back to the fatherland by this all-efficient agency at trifling cost is an illustration in point. If there was a funeral service performed over his remains prior to their being confined to the parcel post all the essentials of a well-ordered funeral were present. It has not yet come to pass that the parcel post undertakes to transport coffins, but it has come to pass that the reduction of a human being after death to the weight and compass that makes it possible to utilize the parcel post facilities for the interment of the remains at some distant point at a minimum of expense. The incident is interesting as indication of the wide-extension of the parcel post service and the range of commodities—if a funeral can be so styled—that can be handled by it.—Baltimore American.

ELECTRICAL STREET CLEANING.

The street-cleaning department of Berlin, Germany, employs 18 battery-driven sprinkling and scrubbing machines. The total daily operating and maintenance cost is $4.41 each. The daily cost of each ten horse-drawn machine is $4.57. Each of the electrically driven machines cleans 55,496 square yards in the average eight-hour day, while each horse-drawn machine cleans 44,013 square yards. The former, therefore, accomplishes over 26 per cent more work at about four per cent less cost, or, in other words, are about 80 per cent more economical. —Electric World.

BOTH EXTREMES.

Patrice—Yes, they seem to be going to extremes in hair.

TYPICAL NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OF 1913

The Tri-City Daily, Florence, Ala., says: "Florence has been captured entirely by the Redpath Chautauqua and it is a safe bet that the chautauqua will not be allowed to pass this city by in the future."

In an editorial in the Albany, Ga., Herald this statement is made: "Thru this big organization with a string of 110 chautauquas scheduled we were enabled to have attractions that we could not have secured for a single assembly."

The Dyersburg, Tenn., State Gazette said editorially: "We will all be sorry when it becomes necessary for them to fold their tents, but unlike the Arabs it will not be necessary for them to steal away."

The Clarksville, Tenn., Leaf-Chronicle

"Now that our good people know from actual experience just what are the possibilities of the Chautauqua movement they are unanimously agreed as to its great helpfulness to a community."

The Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald says:

"The tent which holds over 2000 persons was well filled when the performance began last night and altho the weather was hot every part of the program was received with much enthusiasm. Indications are that from now on large crowds will patronize the chautauqua performances. The Redpath agency which is giving the program is well known as one of the foremost booking agencies of the world."

The Alpena, Mich., Echo: "When Mr. Rheinfrank asked those of the audience who would like a chautauqua in Alpena next year to stand, the entire audience arose. It was necessary to call an imposing vote."

The Battle Creek, Mich., Enquirer: "The Best Ever Chautauqua grows more popular with each succeeding entertainment."

The Gary, Ind., Post: "It is doubtful if any chautauqua in any city has ever had such overwhelming success during its first year as the Redpath Chautauqua had here during its present engagement."

Chautauqua Week Here June 17 to June 23.Re-wed After Long*Estrangement.

Murray, Ky., June 8.—E. J. Means of White county, Arkansas, and Mrs. Eliza Cunningham of this county, were united in marriage in the waiting room of the courthouse yesterday by Judge Langston. About thirty-two years ago this same couple was married, and after a few years they were divorced. Each of them was married again and since then Mrs. Cunningham lost her husband and Mr. Means lost his wife. After a brief courtship they decided to try married life together again.

Train Kills Boy.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 8—L & N. passenger train No. 7, south-bound, which reached Bowling Green last night at 7 o'clock, ran over and instantly killed an unknown white boy, apparently about 16 years old, at Lebanon Junction. The boy stepped from behind a freight train when the engine of No. 7 struck him, throwing him a distance of about fifty feet. He was dead when picked up.

Let Them Die.

"Let them die" is becoming the popular slogan in England against the suffrage. To this end a bill may be introduced in Parliament to protect all jail keepers from any damages in allowing the women to starve to death when on a hunger strike.

A Bigger Loaf.

Sam F. McDonald, prominent Memphis baker and one of the leading figures attending the Tri-State Master Bakers' convention that opened at the Hotel Gibson Cincinnati, struck the keynote when he said: "God has smiled on the wheat fields of the nation. A record-breaking crop is in prospect, and if there is any change at all in the size of a five-cent loaf of bread the loaf will be made larger, not smaller. It seems probable that an ounce or so may be added to the loaf as a result of the bounteous wheat harvest."

Cancer of Throat

Baltimore, Md., June 10.—After having been unable to speak for a long time on account of a great tumor in his throat, Thomas H. Caldwell, of Fengola, Fla., left a sanatorium, not only cured, but able to converse in a perfectly natural voice. His cure was effected with radium. "My cure is most remarkable," he said. "When I first came to Baltimore I had a tumor on the left side of my throat about four times the size of my fist."

Didn't Like The Tune.

Jacob McCullough, a wealthy farmer at Rockport, Ind., objected to a tune whistled by Ernest Hawkins while at his work and a quarrel ensued in which Hawkins killed McCullough.

Coming Chautauqua Week— The Denton Grand Opera Company

On the evening that Kryl and his band appear in the two day musical festival of Chautauqua week the Denton Grand Opera Company will present selections from grand opera in special costume, with musical accompaniment by the band. When the date of this company at any Chautauqua comes on Sunday they will present selections from the oratorio instead of grand opera.

Slavson Denton, the tenor of this company, appeared one season with the Aborn Opera Company, New York, and one season with the Romany Opera Company, in the same city. His voice is a lyric tenor of very wide range.

Elsie Stand, contralto of this company, sang the leading contralto role ten different times in the "World in Chicago" pages last year. She has a remarkably rich, full voice of very wide range and also histrionic ability.

H. Stanley Deacon, the baritone, was the leading baritone with Playauw Opera Company last season. He has a voice of wide range and beautiful quality. He has appeared in such roles as Count in "Il Trovatore" and the baritone role in "Pagliacci."

O'Neal Corrigan has a high soprano voice. The Musical Courier, Chicago, says that her voice is a high soprano, well placed, flexible and to which all the intricacies of the Mozart coloratures are mere clay.

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Pennyroyal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 21.

A New Face In an Old Business But no Stranger To The Public.

Some business men are born in Hopkinsville, some are brought in as children by their parents and others are experienced business men when they come, who deliberately choose Hopkinsville for the opportunities it offers.

SILAS A. PATE.

Of this class is Silas A. Pate, manager of the grocery department of the Forbes Manufacturing Co. Mr. Pate was born in Breckinridge county, Ky., in 1870, on a farm, and early developed fine business qualifications. In 1893, when the first election was held under the present Constitution, the Republicans of his county nominated him for Sheriff in a strong Democratic county, against a popular opponent, and the youngster of 23 "surprised the natives" by being elected, and made such a good officer that some years later he was tendered by a Democrat an appointment to fill a vacancy in the same office, but declined the honor.

The political game was not to his taste, and, after teaching school a few years, he started a flouring mill in Hardinsburg, and by 1901 had made $25,000 or $30,000, all of which went up in smoke in one day. His mill and his new residence near it were destroyed in the same fire, with no insurance. He borrowed money, picked his flint, and started all over, going on the road for two years and trading in mill products until he got another foothold. In 1908 he was made Steward of the Western State Hospital and like Moses on Mount Nebo climbed the 134-foot smoke stack at the Hospital, and took his first look over into the "Promised Land" two miles to the west. But unlike Moses, he was destined to some day enter in.

With no attention to political considerations, but with an eye always to business, he put a wonderful amount of vigor and intelligence into the official duties of his office and left a record at the end of five years that was altogether to his credit and to the permanent welfare of the institution.

When his term expired, he found a job waiting for him as manager of the extensive estate of Col. F. G. Ewing, at Glen Raven, Tenn. One year there made him long to return to Hopkinsville, and he "came back" last fall, bringing his lasses and pennates with him, and on his wheelhouse was emblazoned the inscription, "come to stay." As manager of one of the departments of the biggest commercial establishment in the city, he found a position to his taste, and Mr. Pate may now be reckoned as one of Hopkinsville's live wires.

He has bought a pretty home on East Seventh street and is occupying it with his wife and four little boys.

Wheat in Trigg.

The four neighbors, Dug Crute, T. L. Ellis, Elmo Jones and T. N. Wadlington, are contesting for the "forty bushels to the acre" record on certain fields of their respective wheat crops. The common expression is, as the reaper does its work, "If any ground will produce forty bushels, surely this will." A bumper crop is being harvested all over the county.—Record.

The Moguls will return home Tuesday for a series with Cairo and the time has come for the fans to get behind the team and give it more substantial encouragement. All over the League the attendance is falling off and the teams are losing money. This week has been particularly disastrous and the Moguls will come home from a tour in which they have lost money. The team has held its own pretty well, playing some fine games, winning some and losing others by close margins.

On the home grounds, women and children are admitted for ten cents and the ladies should lend their encouragement at a time when it is badly needed. A hundred ladies in the grandstand would be an inspiration to the players to put forth their best effort.

Wednesday's Results.

Clarksville 2, Henderson 1. Owensboro 6, Paducah 2. Cairo 1, Hopkinsville 0.

The Ohio Valley Fire and Marine Insurance Co.

Like Any Other Institution, Is BEST KNOWN BY THE FRIENDS IT HAS

If you have been reading the several advertisements recently published by The Ohio Valley Fire and Marine Insurance Company, you have seen warm recommendations from the officials of every bank in Paducah—from men whose judgment and counsel is received with earnest attention by every business man in Paducah.

These men are CONSERVATIVE men, and they express no opinions until they KNOW THE FACTS. Conditions are distinctly unusual in Kentucky right now—foreign companies have practically deserted the field and left it to Kentucky Companies. This being the case, high-class, responsible agents all over the State are eager to secure representation of our Company; choice risks seek our protection; our investment funds will be in such demand that we may pick and choose. Such conditions ordinarily cost years of time and huge sums of money. Can you picture any brighter prospect than that? Do you know of a body of men better able to see, and take advantage of, these remarkably favorable conditions. Couple their ability with the rigid protection which the law gives investors in Fire, Insurance stocks and you have the ideal type of safe, sound, profitable investment. Any of our officers or directors will be glad to go into the matter with you at length, answering your questions and giving you information that will be of value.

No large sum is required for you to become a shareholder in The Ohio Valley; $20 is the price of one share of stock. When $100,000.00 has been subscribed we shall commence operations—and that will be very soon. You cannot afford to wait too long.

Orders.

The Fox Bros. Co., have adopted a spot cash system for their ice cream and sherbet orders and payment must be made on delivery. Trouble has resulted from filling orders irresponsible parties sent in by phone and the company has decided to fix a very low schedule of prices and not sell to any one on credit. Their Pasteurized cream and sherbets have met with the approval of the public to such an extent that the business in a month's time has grown to enormous proportions. They have also been forced to adopt certain hours for looking orders and those who wait until the last moment can only get their order filled by sending to the factory.
